Adjustment of the Legislature—A Visit to Asheville—A Legislative Summary—Notes.

Special Telegram to the Dispatch.
RATON, N. C., March 11.—The Legislature adjourned today after having been in session six days and serving the two last days without delay. There was a good deal of speech-making in the Senate and a considerable number of bills were introduced. Nothing was done save to enroll bills, 578, or 200 more than at the previous session. No bill has yet been signed today. Both Lieutenant-Governor Holt and Speaker Leavelle were present in adjourning their respective legislatures.

The bill to increase the fund for the maintenance of the Agricultural and Mechanical College which passed the House died in the Senate, and the status of the college, of the Department of Agriculture, and of the Bureau of Labor Statistics remains unchanged.

Attorney-General Davidson was asked this afternoon when he would begin to look after the duties of that office. He said he would take no steps until he had a conference with the special legislative committee which has charge of that matter. This committee is clothed with power to sit at any time. There is a disposition to push the inquiry in a very earnest and practical manner.

ARMED OFFENSES.—The activity to-day in all this section. In some places there is a scarcity of laborers, caused by the exodus. It is feared that since news of the exodus has been made, the negroes are leaving white men in the morning in the eastern section of this state. No effort whatever is being made to restrain the negroes from emigrating.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE members of the Legislature leave here for Asheville in special cars. Twenty-five of the members are colored. There are both white and colored members on the trip.

The case of Cross and White, the bank holders, is to come on for trial before the United States Supreme Court.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.
The most important work done by the Legislature, which at noon today ended its session, is as follows: A pension act giving $100,000 to the Civil War veterans, and 9 cents on the dollar (raising $78,000) for pensions to ex-Confederate soldiers, for a scale according to degree of disability, and to widows of deceased soldiers. No case the making the penitentiary self-sustaining with an annual appropriation of $75,000 yearly direct from the Treasury, the remainder to be raised by the sale of the penitentiary grounds of the State from depreciation by absolutely forbidding the taking of ex-sters from North Carolina waters.

An interstate law, said by Mr. Davidson, the country, was adopted. Railways built by public subscription are required, upon changing their routes, to refund such subscription. Free grants of land to corporations—even to the Western North Carolina railroad, in which the State has an interest, and the grant of land to the State, which are entirely owned by the State.

George F. Laughlin, who was recently murdered by his companion N. C. Croden, near Wilmington, was a native of Randolph county, as was also the murderer.

A great mass meeting of negroes was held here this evening to make arrangements for emigration, called to order by Mr. Croden. The movement of negroes will this week be heavier than ever.

J. A. Rodwell has been elected sheriff of Warren county, and has given the required bond.

THE PHILISTINES.
The Philosophy of Philip Bacon is the philosophy of life. "I have no new accident to the body," said he, "but my opinion of it; in sickness principally respect itself, and in health principally respect others." It is not bravery—it is folly. As Bacon says, "Despite no new accident to the body," Brandt's Pills will remove all the little evils of life. He often neglected his body to care for others. He is now with you always a box of Brandt's Pills.

"We have no information," it made in answer to the inquiry for some news regarding the alleged destruction of the Nipile at Samoa. It is not apparent that a United States naval officer was stationed at Auckland, the nearest cable point to Samoa, and the Nipile was some time ago reported to have been destroyed. It is not clear that it would have been speedily informed of the reported destruction of the Nipile. STRANGE EVICE.

A ROBBER LOCKS A BANK CARRIER IN A VAULT.

He Then Proceeds to Rife the Money-Drawer—The Prisoner is Released and the Thief is Captured.

Special Telegram to the Dispatch.
WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 11.—At 10 o'clock, Lawrence county, Saturday, E. L. Smith, cashier of the Watertown Bank, was alone in a building about noon, when Charles Phelps, a post-office clerk, entered and asked for stamps. Smith stepped into the vault to get them, and the robber, who had been waiting for the opportunity, closed the door and turned the combination, locking the cashier in. The robber then turned to the money-drawer and took all the money in the vault, which amounted to several hundred dollars in silver.

The amount would ordinarily have been much larger, but the bank had been closed for some time, and the money-drawer was not nearly so large as he had expected it to be. Meanwhile a customer entered the bank and saw what had happened. He heard the cashier calling to him from the vault, and being instructed as to the combination released him. Nothing was heard of the robber until the midnight train arrived, when he was discovered as one of the passengers. He had gone by a circuitous route to Broome Falls and taken the train there, hoping to elude detection. He was, however, without being detected, and then on to Ogdensburg, where he could easily cross into Canada. Parties on the train who knew him had learned of the robbery, and he was captured by the Canadian police.
